

The Story of St Piran 5.3.19

I can retell the story of "St Piran" and understand that this story is still celebrated in Cornwall every year.

We watched a powerpoint and listened to the story of "St Piran".

We acted the story out and created our own story board.

1. A very long time ago, in Ireland, a good man taught the people all about God. Lots of people liked him, but the leaders did not like him.

2. The leaders wanted to get rid of him, so they tied him to a rock and threw him into the sea.

3. The man had faith in God and prayed to be saved from the stormy seas. As he prayed, the storm calmed and he sailed across the sea to Cornwall.

4. The man landed on Perranporth beach and built a chapel.

5. The people of Cornwall came from miles around to listen to his teachings.

6 This man was named after the beach he landed on, he is called St Piran. Today the people of Cornwall still celebrate St Piran's arrival at Perranporth beach.
