	Tu	It is the last day of term, and if we were in school, we would probably be watching a DVD or playing a game of rounders as an end of term treat. Please negotiate with your home school teacher (Mum or Dad) whether they consider you have worked hard enough this term, and if they have, sit and watch a film, or go outside and do a fun activity with your family. If you have logged on today to find your work, then I'm sure you deserve it!

Foundation Subjects	Teachers in school have planned a variety of lessons for the foundation subjects according to their interests and expertise. These are located on the General Resources page. There is no set timetable for any of these subjects, they are there for you to dip into as you wish. You should aim to do a variety over the week. Activities done with your parents such as cooking, walking hobbies etc. are also valuable learning experiences and can be substituted if your parents wish. For further suggestions and ready-made lessons, go to the BBC home learning page for Year 3. Choose from any of the computing, science, art and design, history or geography lessons. They have dates on them, but you can do them in any order.
