

YEAR 4 HOMEWORK

Maths

MyMaths work on written addition. Do the ones that you can, if you find them especially tricky don't worry- just let me know! Please remember to also practice your times tables for 10 minutes every day!

English

This week's homework is from Pobble365.com. The website uses a picture-a-day to inspire children's writing. This is the picture from 11.11.21

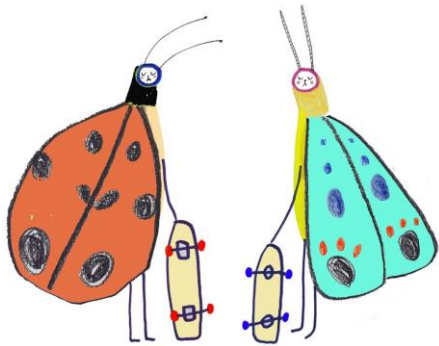

Picture it

Imagine the entire giant has now emerged from the ground.

Draw or describe what he looks like. If you do a drawing add a caption to go with it. Can you think of some interesting adjectives to describe his COLOSSAL size! (You can't have that one! 😊)

Spellings to learn for this week- Use Copy, Cover, Write, Check to practice: dead, head, read, bread, thread, spread, health, wealth, feather

© Ashley Percival Illustrations

Remember to get out and about each week too--- it's just as important as homework! We would love to see pictures of any outdoor adventures ! You can email them to us via secretary@kea.cornwall.sch.uk and we will put them on our HEALTHY BODY board! Thanks for all the lovely pictures received so far! Dog walking, digger driving, beach days, birthday parties, safari parks! What an adventurous bunch you are!

A link to our class spotify playlist is now on the class page of our website. ENJOY

Revise

To help the children learn important facts from our topic, we have some key bits of information that we have been trying to learn in school. These bits of information are known as 'KIRFS' (Key Instant Recall Facts and Skills). The KIRFS in our current topic are:

Brahman is the supreme spirit and the gods and goddesses are different representations of Brahman.

Hindus can worship anywhere, but mainly worship at their home shrine or in a mandir.

Diwali means rows of lights and celebrates the story of Rama and Sita's return home and the triumph of good over evil.

Hinduism originated in the Indus valley but is now practiced throughout the world, including in Britain.

Create!

Our Create task is optional this week- have a go if you would like to! We will put any pictures up on our 'Art' board in class.

We have been hearing a little of a short story collection each day, called 'The Gory Goings-on of Gravely Gate'. The first story is set in a spooky mansion called 'Volk Manor'. Here is the description of the house:

"Firstly, what a glorious-looking house. Note the architecture, the finesse of the details. It has an imposing stature that unashamedly dominates the hardly modest street. Gargoyles perch proudly atop the pillars, either side of the magnificent, black mahogany door. The windows are framed elegantly by sculpted granite adornments and the roof has a pitch, so ambitious that it extends what seems endlessly into the sky, towering over the adjacent properties with an unsettling confidence. It is a building of extreme grandeur and near regal disposition."

In class we drew some quick pictures of what the house may look like based on this description, but we would love to see some more detailed and ambitious artwork. Perhaps you could even paint us a picture! Use your imagination to fill in any gaps in the description.

Remember the importance of staying SAFE online. ALWAYS check with a grown up before using any game, device or app. For further information about staying safe online, visit this section of our school website.