

YEAR 4 HOMEWORK

INVADERS AND SETTLERS SPECIAL

A slightly different type of homework this week to celebrate the end of our topic 'Invaders and Settlers'.

Revise

To help the children learn important facts from our topic, we have some key bits of information that we have been trying to learn in school. These bits of information are known as 'KIRFS' (Key Instant Recall Facts and Skills). The KIRFS in our current topic are:

The first major Roman invasion of Britain was in 43 AD

Anglo Saxons landed in Britain in 420AD

A Viking home is called a longhouse

The first Viking invasion of Britain was in 789AD

I have made a quiz for you to challenge yourself to see if you can remember our KIRFS! I have also added a few questions about some of the science work we have done this half term.

To have a go at the quiz, you need to click this link. It should work on any laptop, desktop, tablet or even phone.

Be sure to enter your name so I can see that you have had a go! Feel free to access this quiz any time before Tuesday 2nd November.

Remember to get out and about each week too - it's just as important as homework!

We would love to see pictures of any outdoor adventures! You can email them to us via secretary@kea.cornwall.sch.uk and we will put them on our HEALTHY

BODY board! Thanks for all the lovely pictures received so far! Dog walking, digger driving, beach days, birthday parties, safari parks! What an adventurous bunch you are!

A luxurious Roman home was called a villa and had servant quarters, and exercise room and even underfloor heating!

Anglo Saxons didn't like the Roman homes made from Stone and made theirs from wood instead

A link to our class Spotify playlist is now on the class page of our website. ENJOY Create!

We would love for you to have a go at making a model of one of these homes! The model you make is up to you. It can be made from a cardboard box (see this example for inspiration), paper and straws, recycling- you could even use Lego (send us a picture of your creations!) or Minecraft (see more details about this below).

In order for you to have time to gather some materials and plan your build, we will be extending the deadline for this homework to Tuesday 2nd November. This means you could make this a half term project if you would like to.

If you are going away over half term or have other exciting things planned, then a drawing design of the home would be just as welcome. Perhaps you could do a picture using a computer or tablet?

I am sure many of you are already familiar with Minecraft!

As well as being a very popular game, it is such a fantastic, creative learning tool.

If you have access to Minecraft then feel free to use it to build your Saxon, Viking or Longhouse home. Perhaps you could even try building a whole settlement? See how accurate you can make the buildings and other features of these ancient villages.

To share your creations, you are welcome to email images (either screenshot or taken with camera or screen recordings if you have this facility) to us via the school email.

As with ALL games or apps that feature an online aspect (Minecraft included), remember the importance of staying SAFE online. ALWAYS check with a grown up before using any game, device or app. For further information about staying safe online, visit this section of our school website.
